Notes: Figures may not add due to rounding. USF is an abbreviation for the Universal Service Fund.

² Includes both the primary and pilot programs.

³ Contributions include administrative cost of approximately $105 million, as shown in USAC's Annual Report. Allocation of contributions among states is an FCC estimate.

⁴ Net dollar flow is positive when payments from USF to carriers exceed contributions to USF. Total is negative because of administrative expenses.

⁴ The Bureaus release a second type of PN when the information in the long-form application is complete, to announce that support is authorized and defaults have been determined. To date, since the release of this PN, the Bureaus have released nine additional Support Authorized PNs. To date out of 795 winning bids totaling nearly $300 million, these PNs have authorized support for 381 winning bids totaling approximately $264 million and determined defaults for 38 winning bids totaling over $20 million.

We anticipate the following actions, among others, to continue implementation of USF/ICC reforms:

- Implementation of rate survey for measuring fixed voice and broadband services
- Tribal Mobility Fund I Auction
- Connect America Fund Phase II in price cap territories
- Remote Areas Fund
- Mobility Fund Phase II
- Adoption of ICC Compliance and Monitoring Report
- Order(s) addressing pending requests for waiver of ICC recovery rules
- Adoption of specific methodology for broadband performance measurement reporting

² In the USF/ICC Transformation Order, the Commission eliminated the rule providing identical support to competitive ETCs, determining the rule did not provide an “appropriate level of support for the efficient deployment of mobile services in areas that do not support a private business case for mobile voice and broadband.” Connect America Fund et al., WC Docket No. 10-90 et al., Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 26 FCC Rcd 17666, 17851-59, para. 502 (2011), pets. for review pending sub nom. In re: FCC 11-161, No. 11-9900 (10th Cir. filed Dec. 8, 2011). The Commission, however, transitioned the elimination of that support over five years, beginning on July 1, 2012. See USF/ICC Transformation Order, 26 FCC Rcd at 17853, para. 513.

³ Verizon Wireless and Sprint Nextel, in separate transactions in 2008, each committed to phase down their CETC high-cost universal service support in 20 percent increments over five years, beginning in 2009. These commitments were not implemented until the Commission released an Order on August 31, 2010 providing guidance to the Universal Service Administrative Company regarding the methodology to achieve those commitments. High-Cost Universal Service Support, Federal-State Joint Board on Universal Service, Request for Review of Decision of Universal Service Administrator by Corr Wireless Communications, LLC, WC Docket No. 05-337, CC Docket No. 96-45, Order and Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 25 FCC Rcd 12854 (2010). To the extent that Verizon Wireless received support prior to the August 31, 2010 Order that should have been surrendered under its commitment, USAC reclaimed that support in 2010 and 2011.

⁴ CenturyLink merged with Qwest on April 1, 2011. See <http://news.centurylink.com/index.php?s=43&item=2226.A12>

² Phase I incremental support provides a one-time injection of funding to spur the deployment of broadband-capable networks to areas that currently lack broadband service. The Phase I incremental support amounts are subject to recovery to the extent carriers are not able to make deployments consistent with Phase I rules.

Source: USAC provided calendar-year disbursement data and quarterly data on the number of lines supported by any of the high-cost programs. Rollups performed by Wireline Competition Bureau staff.

¹ Negative numbers reflect true-ups from previous periods. Average supported lines is the average of the quarterly supported line figures. If no carrier on this list received funding from a particular high-cost support program, then that program was not displayed on this table. Price cap carriers no longer submit line counts and therefore their support per line could not be calculated for 2012. In 2011, the last year for which price caps submitted line information, the highest support per line amount was less than $1,500 per year.

³ Reductions in high-cost support occur when legacy high-cost support is $250 per line per month (which annualizes to $3,000 per year). CAF-ICC support is not included in the calculation.

⁴ Study areas were included on this table if total high-cost support exceeded $3,000 per line in 2012.

Source: USAC provided calendar-year claims data for competitive ETCs by state - rollups performed by Wireline Competition Bureau staff. Starting in January 2012, USAC does not report CETC high-cost support by incumbent study area because CETC support was frozen except in remote areas of Alaska.

Note: No Connect America Fund Phase I Mobility Support was disbursed in 2012.

Request 6 D

We have included the data on wire centers served by the competitive ETC for Request 6(d) in an EXCEL workbook named Request6D.xls.

Request 6 E

We are investigating whether we can prepare a list of other broadband-capable competitors that do not receive high-cost support. If possible, it will be submitted at a future date.

² These responses refer to “affiliate name” rather than “holding company” so as to include all entities under common ownership or control, to the extent this information is readily available to the Commission. In most cases, the “affiliate name” is reported by the entity or entities in FCC Form 477.

³ Phase I incremental support provides a one-time injection of funding to spur the deployment of broadband-capable networks to areas that currently lack broadband service. The Phase I incremental support amounts are subject to recovery to the extent carriers do not deploy consistent with Phase I rules. In both rounds of Connect America Phase I, carriers were required to report the census blocks where they planned to deploy broadband-capable networks to satisfy their Phase I obligations. However, these deployment plans are subject to change: after providing notice to the Commission, carriers have the ability to alter their deployment plans and deploy to other unserved census blocks, which could result in more or less support being allocated to any given study area.

Request 7 D

We have included the data on wire centers served by the competitive ETC for Request 7(d) in an EXCEL workbook named Request7d.xls.

Request 7 E

We are investigating whether we can prepare a list of other broadband-capable competitors that do not receive high-cost support. If possible, it will be submitted at a future date.

Source: USAC provided calendar-year disbursement data and quarterly data on the number of lines supported by any of the high cost programs - rollups performed by Wireline Competition Bureau staff.

nm: not meaningful nr: not reported

² These responses refer to “affiliate name” rather than “holding company” so as to include all entities under common ownership or control, to the extent this information is readily available to the Commission. In most cases, the “affiliate name” is reported by the entity or entities in FCC Form 477.

³ Phase I incremental support provides a one-time injection of funding to spur the deployment of broadband-capable networks to areas that currently lack broadband service. The Phase I incremental support amounts are subject to recovery to the extent carriers do not deploy consistent with Phase I rules. In both rounds of Connect America Phase I, carriers were required to report the census blocks where they planned to deploy broadband-capable networks to satisfy their Phase I obligations. However, these deployment plans are subject to change: after providing notice to the Commission, carriers have the ability to alter their deployment plans and deploy to other unserved census blocks, which could result in more or less support being allocated to any given study area.

¹These responses refer to “affiliate name” rather than “holding company” so as to include all entities under common ownership or control, to the extent this information is readily available to the Commission. In most cases, the “affiliate name” is reported by the entity or entities in FCC Form 477.

² When calculating support, NECA reduces high-cost loop (HCLS) support to those carriers exceeding the HCLS benchmarks, reduces HCLS to those carriers with artificially low end user rates, and then applies the corporate operations expense limit to both HCLS and interstate common line support, before the $250 per line cap is applied.

Federal Communications Commission Response to
United States House of Representatives
Committee on Energy and Commerce
Universal Service Fund Data Request of August 2, 2013

Requests 12 and 13
Connect America Phase I

As questions 12 and 13 are closely related, below is a combined response.

In 2012, holding companies whose affiliates include price cap carriers accepted a total of $114,765,000 in incremental support. Those carriers will be required to deploy broadband to a total of 148,086 locations. The carriers accepting Connect America Phase I Round 1 support have indicated plans for deployment in 37 states. The Commission estimates that nearly 400,000 residents and small business owners in these areas will gain access to high-speed Internet within two years as a result of these funds.

In 2013, the Commission provided for a second round of Connect America Phase I funding. In this second round, holding companies whose affiliates include price cap carriers requested a total of $386,017,133 in incremental support. The carriers accepting second round support have indicated plans for deployment in 44 states and Puerto Rico and up to 606,161 locations. These are preliminary figures. Requests are subject to a challenge process, which may reduce the total amount of support for which carriers are eligible. Furthermore, carriers may, after providing notice to the Commission, spend support in other areas than initially indicated. This could result in any given state receiving more or less support.

Due to the manner in which data are currently collected and displayed in the National Broadband Map (Map), the rules for Connect America Phase I allow carriers to identify locations to be served in census blocks which the Map indicates are completely unserved, completely served, or partially served. In reality, there are likely individual unserved locations in census blocks that the Map indicates are entirely or partially served. However, in no circumstances may Connect America Fund Phase I support be used to deploy to a location that is already served by a commercial provider.

In response to concerns about the accuracy of the National Broadband Map, which could potentially prevent carriers from accepting Connect America Phase I support to quickly deploy broadband to unserved locations (identified as being located in blocks that are completely served on the Map), the Commission modified the rules to permit carriers accepting CAF Phase I support to satisfy their deployment requirement by deploying to locations identified on the National Broadband Map as located in census blocks that are completely served if the Map reflects that the only provider of fixed broadband to the location is the incumbent carrier itself, the locations are in fact unserved by broadband, and the carrier makes the certifications require by section 54.312(b) of the Commission's rules.¹ A carrier is also permitted to deploy to unserved locations in census blocks the Map indicates are partially served, with appropriate certifications.

In implementing the second round of Connect America Phase I support, the Commission provided for a challenge process whereby parties could challenge the served/unserved designation of a census block on the National Broadband Map.² This process gives carriers the opportunity to contest whether locations are in fact served. It also gives existing commercial providers an opportunity to contend that they are already serving certain locations that are shown as unserved on the Map. This assists in ensuring Connect America funds are not spent in areas already served by an existing commercial provider.

In all cases, when accepting Connect America Phase I support (with acceptances subject to the challenge process in the second round), carriers were required to certify that the locations to be deployed to are shown on the National Broadband Map as unserved by any provider other than the certifying entity itself or an affiliate, or that they are challenging the designation of the location on the National Broadband

¹ See Connect America Fund et al., WC Docket No. 10-90 et al., Second Order on Reconsideration, 27 FCC Rcd 4548, 4651, para. 9 (2012).

² See Connect America Fund, WC Docket No. 10-90, Order, 28 FCC Rcd 7766 (2013).

Map; that, to the best of the carrier's knowledge, the locations are, in fact, unserved by fixed broadband at specified speeds; that the carrier's capital improvement plan did not already include plans to complete broadband deployment within the next three years to the locations to be counted to satisfy the deployment obligations; and that incremental support will not be used to satisfy and merger commitment or similar regulatory obligation.³ Carriers accepting support in the second round of Phase I must additionally certify that they have undertaken due diligence to ensure the locations will not receive funding through the Broadband Initiatives Program (BIP) or the Broadband Technology Opportunities Program (BTOP). In short, Connect America Phase I funds are not permitted to be used to deploy to any locations where fixed broadband is already available (or will become available through BIP/BTOP) or areas in which a carrier already had plans to deploy.

At this time, the Commission is unable to determine the actual number of individual locations where each carrier will deploy at the census block level. Carriers requested the census blocks and wire centers in which they intended to deploy, but were not required to identify the number of individual locations per identified census block. Based on acceptance letters provided by carriers receiving Connect America Phase I support, the Commission has published a map identifying the estimated total number of locations carriers expect to deploy to at the state level. The map for the first round of Phase I is available at <http://www.fcc.gov/maps/connect-america-fund-caf-phase-i>. On August 21, 2013, the Commission issued a press release announcing requests for second round Phase I support and providing a list of locations by state where carriers had indicated their intent to deploy. A copy of that list is included below, and an Excel version of the list is available at http://hraunfoss.fcc.gov/edocs_public/attachmatch/DOC-322939A1.xlsx. The map for the second round of Phase I is available at <http://www.fcc.gov/maps/connect-america-fund-phase-i-round-two>. However, carriers are not required to indicate the specific locations to which they have deployed until they notify the Commission that they have met their deployment obligations – specifically, deployment to no fewer than two-thirds of the required number of locations within two years, and all required locations within three years, after filing their notices of acceptance.

All pending waivers of Phase I rule are noted in the response to question 11.

* - Some of the carrier acceptances are contingent upon carriers prevailing in challenges regarding whether certain census blocks are unserved. Furthermore, after providing the Commission with notice, carriers have the ability to alter deployment plans to other unserved census blocks, which could result in more or less funding being allocated to any given state.

† - Carrier did not provide locations by census block, so these figures are estimated by assuming each block has an equal number of locations to be served.

‡ - Due to calculations and rounding, individual states do not exactly sum to total.

Universal Service Fund Data Request of August 2, 2013

Request 14
Total High Cost Support
(2012 and Projected 2014)

In 2012, high-cost disbursements were $4.147 billion, and $4.597 billion was collected for the high-cost program. See Universal Service Administrative Company, 2012 Annual Report, at 37; Universal Service Monitoring Report, Table 1.9, at 1-16. The difference between collections and disbursements was allocated to a reserve account and administrative expenses. The Commission cannot at this time project with specificity the actual high-cost disbursements for 2014. Consistent with trends from prior years however, in the USF/ICC Transformation Order, the Commission directed the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) to forecast total high-cost universal service demand annually at $4.5 billion, while recognizing that actual disbursements may be lower than $4.5 billion in the early years of USF reform implementation. In the case that actual contributions exceed demand in a given quarter, the Commission directed USAC to credit excess contributions into a Connect America Fund reserve account to be used to fund future deployment. The Commission recognized that it would be appropriate to provide this flexibility to USAC so that the Commission “can implement the Connect America Fund in a way that does not cause dramatic swings in the contribution factor.” See USF/ICC Transformation Order, 26 FCC Rcd at 17846-48, paras. 557-67.

Number of Lines for Carriers with Residential Local Rates and State Regulated Fees Lower than $14
(as of July 1, 2013)

On September 5, 2013, the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) filed with the Commission a letter which summarized the very low local rates charged by local exchange carriers (LECs) receiving high-cost universal service support, as reported to USAC by the LECs. Letter from Karen Majcher, Universal Service Administrative Company, to Marlene Dortch, Federal Communications Commission, WC Docket Nos. 05-337 and 10-90, filed Sept. 5, 2013.

In response to question 15, we attach a copy of that filing.

Re: 2013 Rate Floor Report, Docket No. 05-337, 10-90

Dear Ms. Dortch:

In the Connect America Fund Order, the Commission promulgated rule § 54.318 that reduces high-cost support for incumbent ETCs where end-user rates do not meet a specified local rate floor.¹ Specifically, beginning in July 2013 high-cost loop support (HCLS) and high-cost model support (HCMS) will be reduced where a carrier's local end-user rates plus state regulated fees do not meet the urban rate floor representing the national average of local rates plus those state regulated fees.² The attached filing provides rate floor information for all carriers that are below the local urban rate floor benchmark of $14. Following is a summary of the attached filing:

- Line count and rate floor adjustment are redacted per CenturyLink/Qwest Corp.'s request for confidentiality.³
- Line count and rate floor adjustment are redacted per National Exchange Carrier Association's (NECA) request for confidentiality.⁴
- The total number of study areas with rate floor reductions is 276.

- The total number of lines subject to rate floor reduction for carriers that receive HCLS or HCMS is 219,587.
- The total annualized rate floor reduction for carriers that receive HCLS or HCMS is $4,374,564.
- Note, carriers that are below $14 and do not receive HCLS or HCMS will not be subject to a rate floor reduction. These companies are identified by an asterisk in column B of the attached filing.

Federal Communications Commission Response to
United States House of Representatives
Committee on Energy and Commerce
Universal Service Fund Data Request of September 3, 2013

Request 20
List of States Receiving Higher Amounts of Lifeline Funding
Than Required to Offer Support to 100% of Eligible Households
(as of July 1, 2013)

The Commission is unable to perform the requested analysis because there is insufficient data on the eligible population to do so. To our knowledge, neither the federal government nor the individual states have data regarding the number households that would be eligible for Lifeline through state-specific eligibility criteria. To perform the requested analysis, the Commission would have to both know the number of households which are eligible through such state criteria and the extent to which such households are not already eligible through the Federal default eligibility criteria in order to prevent double counting.

Federal Communications Commission Response to
United States House of Representatives
Committee on Energy and Commerce
Universal Service Fund Data Request of August 2, 2013

Request 21
Designation of Non-Facilities-Based ETCs

Since release of the Lifeline Reform Order, the FCC has designated only one non-facilities-based Eligible Telecommunications Carrier (ETC), i-wireless, LLC. Under section 214(e)(2) of the Communications Act, states designate ETCs but, where a state commission does not have jurisdiction, Congress has directed the FCC to designate carriers as ETCs. The FCC currently designates wireless carriers in Connecticut, North Carolina, New York, Florida, New Hampshire, Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama, Texas, Maine, Delaware, and the District of Columbia. The FCC may also designate carriers on federally recognized Tribal lands, under Section 214(e)(6), based upon a specific inquiry and determination that a state commission lacks jurisdiction over a particular carrier. In the remaining states, it is the state that designates ETCs. After a state has designated an ETC, the ETC applies to the Universal Service Administrative Company for a Study Area Code (SAC) in order to receive support from the universal service fund. Consequently, USAC only knows the number of new SACs reported, but not the total number of new designations. The FCC does, however, now require that all non-facilities-based providers seeking to become Lifeline-only ETCs first have a compliance plan approved by the Wireline Competition Bureau before being designated as an ETC by a state or the FCC.
